WHAT DID U. S. BUY?

THREE ISLANDS DISCOVERED BY
COLUMBUS IN 1493.

Naval Officers Regard Them as Valuable to Europe in Case of War With America.

The three Danish Islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John, in the order of their size and population, were discovered by Columbus in 1493. Spanish, British, French, Dutch and Danish flags have floated over one or all of the islands at various times.

St. Croix, lying sixty-five miles southeast of Porto Rico, has an area of eighty-four square miles and it is the most prosperous of the group, with its two towns of Christianstad and Frederikstad. It was held at one time by the Knights of Malta, having been given to that famous order by Louis XIV of France.

St. Thomas, which lies only forty miles east of Porto Rico, was at one time the chief distributing center of West Indian trade, its importance being directly attributable to the fact that the mother country, Denmark, maintained its neutrality during the numerous European wars of the eighteenth century.

Charlotte Amalie, with a population of less than 10,000, mainly negroes, is still an important coaling station for steamers in the West Indian trade. With a depth of from twenty-five to thirty-six feet of water, the roadstead can accommodate the largest merchant ships.

St. John, least important of the islands, lying four miles to the east of St. Thomas, has an area of twenty-one square miles. It is scarcely more than a 10-mile mountain ridge with only one distinguishing feature, Coral Bay, the harbor of refuge in the Antilles, Cruxbay, a village of 1,000 inhabitants on the northern shore, is the center of population.

While Danish is the official language of the islands, English is quite generally spoken. Not infrequently there are earthquakes and hurricanes. If Denmark decides to part with the islands there will remain to her only two colonial possessions—Greenland and Iceland.

Naval officers regard the Danish West Indies as most valuable for any European government wishing to quarrel with the United States, and have urged that it was essential to keep them from falling into unfriendly hands. They have pointed out that they are very near the naval station at Guantanamo, only a thousand miles from Key West, and a menace to the free navigation of the Windward and Mona passages, the Caribbean sea and the routes to American Atlantic coast cities.

Denmark's huge expenses since the beginning of the war are said to be responsible for her willingness to sell the islands.

CITY OFFICIALS SMASH RECORDS

meal of baked fish, potatoes, potato salad, brick cheese, pickles, olives, fresh tomatoes and many other good things awaited the fishermen when they returned about 1:30 for the first meal. Supper was eaten by the aid of the lamps from the autos as the men could not be pulled from the fine holes in the river until it was almost dark.

Every man in the crowd will tell you that he was among the best fishermen. The best half dozen at bringing the fish out of the water were probably R. B. Gex, Woods, Phipps, O'Grady, Hahn and the editor. That last named is probably out of his class but it is the supreme prerogative of every fisherman to brag on his achievements and the writer has the advantage of "blowing" to the largest audience.

Great indignation was expressed this morning when it was learned by the members of the party that rumor was strong in Maryville that a case of beer had been taken along. No, truly, friends, a milk can full of lemonade was the "spikiest" of beverages.

While the bunch was waiting for everyone to get ready to start, Roy Martin asked innocently: "Is anyone taking any boots along?" "Booze?" said Mayor Robey, in horror and condemnation. "This is a dry town," Dr. Malotte promised to attend to any snake bites professionally if such a catastrophe should happen.

Next to the whopper, "Hickory" Woods pulled out the largest. It was a blue cat thirty inches long and weighing about seven pounds. Only the largest fish was weighed, since no scales were taken along. This was accomplished by balancing Dr. Malotte's Ford roadster over a stump with the fish on the other end of a plank. Mathematicians then computed by the comparative length of the two ends of the board that the cat weighed 83 1/2 pounds with its fins off.

If anyone is inclined to doubt this story, just ask anyone who made the trip. Ask Roy Martin's boy, Crawford, who was official "herder" of the fish as they were sacked or thrown up on the bank. And don't express your doubt publicly, for you can be arrested, fined and jailed by members of the party for contempt of the police court.

At any rate, this much is exactly true. There are twenty badly sunburned necks and backs, twenty sore frames and a score of aching dispositions in Maryville today. Also 300 pounds of fish. But it was worth it. What a time!

Thank you, Messrs. Gex.

VOTE ONLY ONE TICKET

ELECTORS MUST CLING TO PARTY AT PRIMARY.

Ballots Expressing Choices on More Than One Ticket Apt to Be Thrown Out.

Editor: I believe the answer to the following question would be of interest to your readers. Can a person legally vote at both Democratic and Republican primaries at the election next Tuesday, provided he does not vote for more than one candidate for any office? For instance, suppose a Democratic voter desires to exercise his right of franchise with respect to all the offices named on his ticket except constable, for which office he desires to vote for a Republican nominee. Can he do so? DEMOCRAT.

The answer to the question is: A person cannot vote both tickets. If in the primary the name of a Republican candidate is found written on a Democratic ballot, or the name of a Democratic candidate on a Republican ballot, such ballot is very likely to be entirely rejected by the judges of election. The theory of the primary is that it is strictly a party affair, and that each party should have the right to nominate its candidates without interference from members of the other party.

There is an unwritten rule that "mixed tickets" in a primary shall be rejected in their entirety, but this is not always done. Usually the judges of election in the several booths agree early on the day of election how they will dispose of such ballots.

As a matter of practice, Republicans sometimes vote the Democratic ticket, and less frequently Democrats vote the Republican ticket in primary elections, but they take chances on having their ballots thrown out unless they vote for only Democratic candidates on Democratic ballots, and vice versa. In the primary of next Tuesday it is predicted that the vote will be a comparatively accurate measure of the relative party strength.

RILEY BURIED YESTERDAY

Poet Laid to Rest in Crownhill Cemetery—Only a Few Persons Present.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—James Whitcomb Riley was laid to rest yesterday in a massive flower covered vault in Crown Hill cemetery.

This temporary resting place was chosen until it could be decided whether the Hoosier poet of simplicity should be forever interred in Crown Hill cemetery, where his grave might become a sanctuary, or in a little cemetery in the town of Greenfield, his boyhood home.

After the pomp of Monday when his body lay in state in the capitol and in six hours 40,000 persons passed by it, the body was moved back to his late home, where the funeral was held. Dr. Joseph A. Milburn of Sewanee, Tenn., former pastor of the Second Presbyterian church here, officiated at the simple services.

Only the poet's few relatives and a few friends were present.

BELIEVE LAKE IS SAVED

Twenty-seven Feet Between Missouri River and Lake Contrary at St. Joseph.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. St. Joseph, July 26.—Notwithstanding a force of men was on duty throughout last night to watch and preserve the deflectors in the Missouri river, earth measuring two feet in width caved into the stream from the narrow point of the neck of land separating the river from Lake Contrary, reducing the width of the strip at this point to twenty-seven feet.

This cutting was due to a sudden and unexpected rise in the river, which, however, is expected to fall again before tomorrow. Despite the cutting last night, it is the general opinion that the river's ravages have been practically halted and that Lake Contrary has been saved until next spring, when the next important rise is expected.

David Lehmer and sister, Miss Bertha Lehmer, are entertaining their father, sister and brother, David Lehmer Sr., Miss Anna Lehmer and Lewis Lehmer, who motored from Effingham, Kan., Saturday.

To the Democratic voters of the first senatorial district of Missouri: Since announcing my candidacy for senator on the Democratic ticket from this district, I have been called with the national guard of this state into the country's service by President Wilson.

DAIRY

BACTERIA FOUND IN UDDER

In Experimenting With Several Bacilli
Common to Milk, Scientist Discovers New Germ.

A discovery of especial interest to dairymen has recently been made by an Italian scientist named Constantino. In experimenting with the several bacilli common to milk, he found a new germ which has to do with the forming of rennet and the coagulation of milk and it thrives especially well in the milk if left in a cow's udder at milking time. When the cow is not milked dry, these acid-forming bacteria develop rapidly and set up inflammation likely to cause serious complications.

It is not an unusual thing for a poorly milked cow to develop a case of caked udder or mastitis, but the exact cause of the trouble has not until the present time been fully understood. The change in the milk due to these organisms is entirely different from the change which occurs in ordinary fermentation and the presence of the harmful bacteria cannot be determined by ordinary methods employed. A special set of fermentation tests for this purpose have been devised, and these are of especial value to the cheese-maker. The presence of the germs indicates faulty milking and an unwholesome condition of the udder. The discovery of the bacillus serves to emphasize the importance of clean and thorough milking.

RIDDING THE COWS OF FLIES

Simple Homemade Mixture, Spread
Lightly Over Animals, Well Worth
Time in Applying.

Nothing conduces more to the comfort and profit of cows on pasture than a protector against the swarms of flies that persecute all through the day and into the night. The following simple homemade mixture sprayed lightly over the animals, particularly where the flies congregate and cannot be brushed off by the tail, is well worth the time it requires to apply it daily: To a quart of kerosene add a tablespoonful each of the following:

Shorthorn Heifers in Pasture.
Oil of tar, oil of pennyroyal, fish oil, carbolic acid. Beat well together. It is best and quickest to apply it with a force pump in a fine spray.

PASTURE STAKE FOR A COW

Practically Impossible for Rope to Become Tangled as Animal Walks Around Wheel.

An old carriage wheel and axle were used to good advantage in the making of the pasture stake shown in the sketch, writes W. F. Quackenbush.

Wheel Revolves on Stake. of New York city in Popular Mechanics. When the animal tethered to the wheel walks around the stake, it is practically impossible for the rope to become tangled, as the wheel revolves on the axle.

KEEP CREAM CANS COVERED

In Summer Weather Ordinary Piece of Wet Burlap Will Keep Temperature About Right.

A great part of the value of keeping cream cool on the farm and at the station or creamery is lost if the cream is exposed to the direct rays of the sun while being hauled from the farm to the point of sale. Far too few people stop to realize the importance of covering their cream cans when bringing them in to town.

Expensive jacketed cans are not a necessity to keep the cream cool. In summer weather just an ordinary piece of wet burlap thrown over the cans will keep the temperature of the cream as much as 20 degrees below what it would rise to if left uncovered while being transported over the average hauling distance.

IN the care of a baby one of the most important things is the choice of soap not only for his bath but for washing his clothes and for general nursery use.

It is very easy for the baby's skin to become chafed and sore either from the bathing or from garments that have lost their softness in the wash, and it always is a troublesome matter to keep nursing bottles and other utensils sweet and clean.

The only safe way is to use the mildest, purest, whitest soap to be had. That is Ivory Soap. It is impossible to make soap of higher quality, no matter what the price may be. When you use it, you know that, so far as bathing and cleansing are concerned, you are doing your best to keep baby healthy and good-natured.

START BABY BEEF ON GRAIN

Provide Creep in Pasture So That Young Animals Will Not Be Disturbed by the Cows.

A creep should be provided in the pasture so that calves may have access to grain without being disturbed by cows, as it is very important to start beef calves on grain before they are weaned. They may be kept in a separate lot into which the cows are turned twice a day, if this method is preferred. In this case there will, of course, be no need for creeps or anything else to keep cows from the grain which may be fed at such times that the cows will not disturb the calves.

The calves may be started on a mixture of two parts of shelled corn to one part of oats by weight. The oats may be gradually reduced until none is being fed at the end of eight weeks, but while this is being done a little old process linseed oil meal or cotton seed meal should be added and the quantity gradually increased until it makes up about a seventh of the weight of the ration. On full feed calves should eat about two pounds of grain for every hundred pounds of live weight in addition to good roughage. Well-bred calves handled in this way should be in prime condition at the end of about 10 or 12 months.

IMPORTANT SKIN TIME

SHOULD BE IN BEST OF CONDITION
DURING SUMMER.

Bathing Most Essential in Summer and Use of Cosmetics Should Be Avoided.

"The skin is very important to the welfare of the human body, and therefore should be kept in the best condition in order to carry out its functions properly," says Prof. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri.

Professor Ravenel says that in the care of the skin cleanliness is of the first importance. For ordinary purposes tepid water may be used in bathing, but the last rinsing should be in cold water. A bland soap should be used at least once a day with a certain amount of friction. Highly perfumed soaps should be avoided, and medicated soaps used only on the advice of a physician.

In addition to bathing with water, the air bath is very important, and preferably should be taken upon rising and again upon going to bed. During the air bath it is advisable to rub the body with the open hand, which increases the circulation and gives a healthy glow to the skin, enabling it to resist cold.

Use of cosmetics should be avoided. Most so-called skin foods contain grease as their principle ingredient. Grease tends to overload the sweat glands and to clog the pores of the skin. There is no such thing as a skin food applicable on the outside. The skin is nourished only by circulation as are other parts of the body.

Generally speaking, greasy and indigestible foods must be avoided, and nourishing, easily digestible foods must be sought. The care of the digestive tract is most important. Constipation is especially to be avoided. This can be done best by regulation of the diet and not by taking medicine. To sum up, the hygiene of the skin depends on cleanliness and maintenance of good circulation.

DAIRY FACTS

INFECTION CAUSE OF GARGET

Germes Gain Entrance Through Teat
Duct—Bacteria Do Little Harm—
Observations to Note.

(By I. E. NEWSOM, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.)
At one time it was thought that garget was due to mechanical injury to the udder, and while this cause cannot be entirely eliminated, it seems evident from all recent work that practically all cases are due to infection, the germs gaining entrance through the teat duct.

It is well known that sterile milk is not to be had even when removed under the most rigid precautions. This indicates that germs are to be found in the udder most of the time. Under ordinary circumstances these bacteria do little harm, but occasionally a harmful one gets in and sets up severe inflammation. This is especially likely to be the case at about the time of freshening, or during the time the cow is drying up. At both periods there is an accumulation of milk that is not drawn out regularly and consequently it forms a good medium in which bacteria can live. When there is much accumulation of milk, milking should be done in order to get out these foreign organisms before they become harmful. While it is not necessary at the time of drying up to encourage milk production by milking dry, yet it is much better to milk out a small quantity so as to get all of the organisms out of the sinus, than it is to allow it to accumulate for several days.

DOUCHE IS OFTEN NECESSARY

Plan Outlined for Treating Cows for Sterility and Abortion—Good Solution in Use.

Frequently the dairyman finds it necessary to use a vaginal douche as a treatment for abortion and sterility troubles. The following method is recommended for such cases:

Secure a large galvanized pail, four to six gallons in capacity according to the size of the herd, and fit it with a stop-cock. Buy a pure gum horse stomach tube and fit it to the stop-cock. Elevate the pail until it is about three feet above the cow so that the liquid will flow freely. This can be readily done by making use of the feeding and litter track if there is one in the barn. When ready to use the apparatus, insert the stomach tube into the vagina, open the stopcock and allow the douching solution to flow into it by gravity until it is completely filled. A very good solution to use is a 1 to 2,500 or 3,000 parts of permanganate of potash and water.

SEPARATING A THICK CREAM

Skimming High-Test Product Leaves
More Skim Milk on Farm for Hogs, Calves and Fowls.

Farmers will make more money by separating a reasonably thick cream than a thin cream. Skimming high-test cream leaves more skim milk on the farm to feed to the hogs, calves and chickens. Skim milk utilized in this way has a feeding value of about 35 cents per hundred, while if the milk is left in the cream, nothing is realized.

The butter maker usually wants a cream testing around 35 or 44 per cent butterfat. In the winter, if the cream is above 40 per cent it is rather difficult to get the cream all out of one can into another or into a vat. Cream testing about 35 per cent in the winter and 40 per cent in the summer is right for buttermaking.

COWS ARE DAIRY MACHINES

If They Fail to Produce Profits Something Is Wrong—Usually It Is Raw Material.

The cows on the dairy farm represent the equipment that produces a profit. If they fail something must be wrong. They are the machines. The feed is the raw material, the milk or butterfat is the finished product.

If the machines are efficient and the finished product is not all that can be desired, the trouble must be with the raw material.

BEE STAND ALWAYS PAYS

RECORDS GIVEN FOR EIGHT CASES IN COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE.

Original Value of Apiary Increased by Several Hundred Per Cent in One Season.

"Do bees ever really store enough honey to pay for their keep," is a question which prospective and discouraged bee-keepers often ask. The records of the apiary of the department of entomology of the University of Missouri for the present season will help to answer this question.

The department apiary this spring consisted of eight spring stands, five of which were three and five-banded Italians, two the leather colored Italians, and one black bee taken from a bee tree in 1915. Of these eight original spring stands, three were in eight-framed dove-tailed hives, one a glass or observation hive. Since spring these eight stands have given off by natural and artificial swarming, thirteen additional stands. All these are developing into strong stands, some having already stored considerable surplus. The apiary has also been used by the students in the class in bee-keeping for practical apiary experience.

Since the middle of June the stands have been so prosperous that they have insisted on building queen cells and threatening to swarm. June 22 and 24 the honey extractor was cleaned up and a part of the surplus honey extracted and the empty combs returned to the stands. Two hundred pounds of fine white clover honey were removed and all frames which had uncapped cells were returned to be re-filled. At least one hundred pounds more of surplus honey was almost ready to be extracted.

By fall the value of the apiary, counting only the bees, will have increased at least 150 per cent. The surplus honey will be worth from 100 to 200 per cent of the original value of the spring stands, besides the value of the adjoining orchard in the pollination of fruit, which has been worth far more than the value of the surplus honey and the increase in value of the apiary.

ROSE IS FOR BOOHER

ment say to these trained men: "You step out; let this man in; because he has a great reputation for setting up drinks, buying cigars, being a good mixer, a silver tongued orator, a favorite son from this or that county, has been speaker of a house, has been constable or so and so. What does your dear Uncle Sam do? He sends his trained men to guard your homes, your children and your property.

"How would the people of the Fourth congressional district feel to watch a raw recruit, such as we would send, if Charley Booher was refused, matching his wits and wisdom with Von Bernsdorff of any of the great foreign ambassadors down at Washington; men who have been designated to spend their lives at those stations? It would be like watching a child who had unfortunately lost its very necessary wearing apparel standing before an audience. It would be as much a handicap as a humiliation.

"A grave situation is before the people of the Fourth Congressional district down at Washington. We all know that August first is one of our opportunities to touch with that situation; we all know that is the day we are to designate one of our great family to go down there and answer yes or no for all of us as a unit on questions concerning us in the great world's war; and there is only one way to perform it—keep our old regular and trained soldier Charley Booher on the (border) front at Washington, and insure the future life, happiness and prosperity of ourselves, our children and our children's children. We have no time to listen to politicians for the same reason that we have no time to listen to college bred students to tell us how to raise our corn, our hogs, and our wheat, or the Dr. Wileys to tell us how to raise our children. It's pencil to the ballot, boys, and send Charley Booher to the front.

"We have no time to listen to these politicians for they never will be satisfied. Even when death calls them they won't be satisfied—it's like this with them, you elect one of them constable, then he wants you to elect him sheriff; then he wants you to elect him representative to Jefferson City; then he wants you to elect him governor; then he wants you to elect him United States senator; then he wants you to elect him president the first time, then he wants you to elect him president the second time; then he wants you to elect him president the third time. It is not so with Charley Booher and Judge Burnes; these two men are exceptions, and when you have an exception stay with it—they have reached their assignment in life, and want no further.

"Training and keeping at their stations such men as Charley Booher, Judge Burnes, Champ Clark, Stone and Wilson, you make history for the teaching of your children's children. "If you dabble and deal with these craving, hungry politicians the only fruit you will ever reap will be Oyster Bay and opossum eating brand of history.

"Charley Booher and Judge Burnes have both been tried, tested and educated in their respective stations. On August first let's take off our hats and bow to the flag of Charley Booher, who is at his station a protector of our homes, your boys and your property. (Signed) CHESTER D. ROSE.
